making friends for the world to see

let the people know you got what you need ...

... with a friend at hand
you will see the light

if your friends are there then everything's alright.

elton john

come into the mountains,
dear friend

leave society and take no one with you

but your true self ...

get close to nature

your everyday games will be insignificant

notice the clouds spontaneously forming patterns

and try to do that with your life.

susan polis schutz

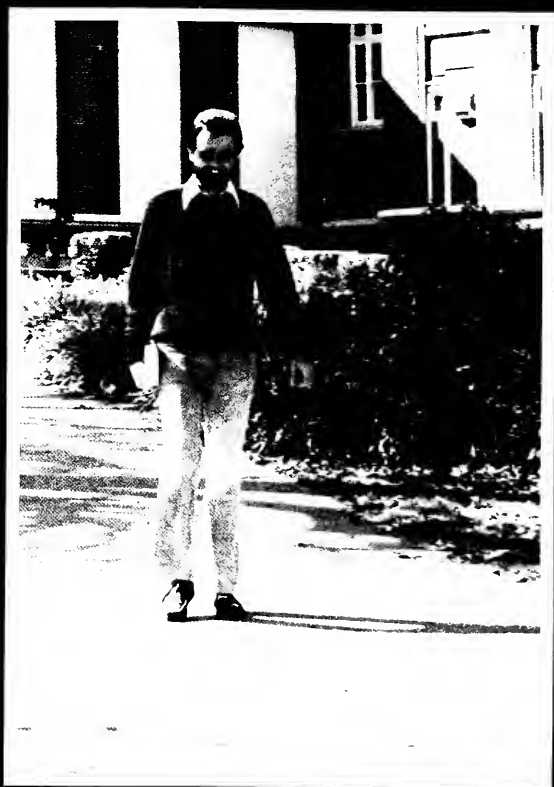

dedication . . .

i asked professors who teach the meaning of life to tell me what is happiness.
and i went to famous executives who boss the work of thousands of men.
they all shook their heads and gave me a smile as though i was trying to fool with them.
and then one sunday afternoon i wandered out along the desplaines river and i saw a crowd of hungarians under the trees with their women and children and a keg of beer and an accordion.

ancient languages

due to the renewed emphasis on the classics, zeus, from his throne on mt. olympus, has found favor with millsaps college. the only tragedy is the appearance of a trojan horse that is concurrent with exams.

the professors of the latin department are attempting to resurrect the latin language, as students are repeatedly told that latin is not dead!

efforts to point out the influences of latin and greek in our history and languages are unending.

although the millsaps art department does not offer a major in art, it is excellent in teaching the art of pot-throwing (smoking?). the department facilities are spacious, well-lighted and well-equipped and there are two full-time faculty members who frequently put on exhibitions. the new head of the department, mr. turner, hopes to develop an art major in the future. he also envisions enclosing the ac parking lot to make a metal-works shop.

sullivan-harrell appears as a temple which is occupied by a peculiar religious order whose center of glorification is "the magnificence of the microscope" and "the benevolence of the bunsen burner." the spectrum of personalities in s.h. ranges from the intellectual introvert, to the enlightened evolutionist, to the ego-tripping ecologist. the faith which the populace of s.h. possesses does not go untested. many exercises in futility are devised to develop perseverance. a frequently used trial is the search for "the almighty unknown," a quest which is fervently pursued by the members of the chema congregation! the subjects of sullivan-harrell shake and quake in fear of the ever-present question, "where will judgment day find you—in the glory of the A's or in the ignominy of the F's???

courses in this department can be a lot of fund. the first lesson learned is the golden rule: "he who has the gold, rules." and speaking of rules, they just aren't up to par anymore. students have converted to calculators and, better still, computers.

it might be a great risk to leave the lights on in the ac perpetually; however, most will agree this is allocatively efficient because business students just love those night classes.

a contribution to the department's goodwill is its own "invisible man." the students declare he's been around because bulldozer tracks have been spotted on the lawn and an empty lunch box sits on his desk to remind all that there's no such thing as a free lunch.

murrah 301, our home away from home, where we, the 'future teachers of america', collect thousands of hand-outs, make lots of learning centers, and learn to become creative (i.e. individualize instruction). by such instruction, we are then supposedly prepared to face the "wilds" of the american school system . . . only to become flustered, trampled, and angered when we find that nothing works.

just pass out the workbooks and that'll keep 'em busy!!

contrary to popular belief, the english department is alive and well, lurking in the halls of murrah, ready to leap out and pounce on unsuspecting visitors and english majors alike. grimaces on our faces can indicate any number of dire events—papers due, tests taken or returned, exams, or that worst horror of all: oral and written comps.

once a semester we shake off our stupor long enough to enjoy the english club party, bringing out membership that hasn't been seen since the last party.

our common suffering holds us together, a loose but long-lasting bond of mutual loathing for required and recommended courses, and through it all, we are assured that we will look back on these years as the happiest time of our lives.

in "what might be" your geology department, one learns all about rocks. here students are exposed "in a ballpark way" to the "meat and potatoes" of the study of our home—the planet earth. when taking geology you get to attend class with an umbrella because the chemistry department can't keep the water where it should be and it rains in the lecture room. this can be an advantage, though, because rocks can get awfully dirty. courses taught here help make traveling much more interesting, as one has the opportunity to reminisce about the department whose motto is "clean dealings in dirt."

history

take one fanatic "fred harris for president" fan, add a couple of cartons of cigarettes, mix well, then stir in (if you can) a purple suit or a touch of green and yellow leisure slacks, and a summer spent in england. combine with a touch of senility that the alumnae won't let go of, and a 6 hour course guaranteed to put you to sleep. bake shortly to bring out the real flavor and there you have it—the millsaps history department.

modern languages

bonjour! buenos dias! guten tag!

these are the typical greetings one might hear at the beginning of a language class. three times a week they gather to hear talks of china, plans for the next wine and cheese party, or the professor's favorite "chiste" followed by readings in cervantes, goethe and sartre.

music

a day in the life of a music major can be hectic. bach and mozart take serious roles as they follow the student musician from early morning theory classes to lessons and hours and hours of practicing, then finally to weekly repertoire classes. in the late hours of evening, when the budding star returns to the dorm, it's frank zappa at full volume.

philosophy

the essence of the philosophy department lies within the realms of the cc where we are always puzzled over the old utilitarian theory of "the greatest good for the greatest number." why doesn't it hold true when grades are issued? most of us find ourselves at the point of moderation, with a grade of "c" (shall we refer to this as the "golden mean"?)

"I think; therefore I am." if we take philosophy, then we become great thinkers???

robert bergmark

physical education

millsaps is not only an institution for strengthening the mind, but it is also a place where one can strengthen the body. great achievements have come about in the "meat department" since they moved into the pac. this year only two people were shot in archery class, only one bowling ball went through the floor, and the number of heart failures due to jogging has declined drastically.

the department offers a course where students can learn how to maintain their strong, healthy bodies. perhaps more important is the games class, in which students learn to take care of other peoples' bodies.

even if you do learn how to apply the theory of relativity, you'll never make it through one of beardsley's tests. but you'll be able to appreciate apples falling from trees and pushing boxes up inclines.

this department is the best equipped; the only problem is finding someone who knows how to use it.

psychology

heading the psychology department at millsaps college, dr. russ levanway can be found on the tennis courts almost as often as he is heard relating an old but classic story in the classroom. dr. levanway's sidekick in elsinore is the learned dr. edmund venator who frequently is seen with a cup of coffee in his hand and an air of skeptical openness about him.

despite reported rumors of the emergence of a new theory, the religion department continues to convey the old. could the bomb threats have been a prophecy of things to come for the real composers of this reported theory? perhaps "junior" could submit a revelation on this matter— if only he could talk! we are confident, however, that drs. lewis and reiff will remain faithful to the end.

lee reiff

while ms. is in the business of liberation, deviation and urbanization, dr. murray races about gathering data in an effort to uncover the causes of social order and cohesion in elsinore. the students feel that one independent variable is the spirits that are internalized at each social gathering at that anonymous country estate, perhaps there are latent functions of those gatherings after all ...

a remarkably talented, versatile group of young performers, they have amassed a wealth of experience in a few short years: six international tours, including jaunts to europe, the caribbean, iceland, newfoundland, and romania; countless appearances within their home state (at art festivals, carnival balls, civic and church functions) as well as in colorado and mexico; guest appearances with the memphis symphony orchestra and on television; not to mention the annual spring concerts at millsaps, and numerous other special performances.

throughout the years the troubadours have continued to demonstrate their talent, versatility, and enthusiasm, thereby fulfilling a traditional concept of troubadours: taking their talents to the people.

the interfraternity council with officers doug minor (president), frank appleby (vice president), and gary garrett (secretary-treasurer), introduced an afternoon of odd and hilarious activities in what they called "greek-freak day."

an innovative idea which had as its objective the bringing together of all millsaps people, the day was co-sponsored by panhellenic and turned out to be an enjoyable experience for everyone and will likely become an annual affair.

ifc has attempted to change its role from a longtime lackadaisical organization to one that will benefit and promote the greek system.

outstanding! this is the word characterization which best describes the millsaps majors 1975 grid season.

following an impressive 8-1 regular season mark, the purple and white were then honored by being invited to the n.c.a.a. division iii play-off competition.

coach harper davis's squad journeyed to colorado where they edged by colorado college in an exciting 28-21 quarterfinal contest. the majors' next step was to meet division iii powerhouse—wittenberg university in ohio.

it was a great honor for millsaps to compete in the semifinals of the national championship, and despite their 55-22 loss in the muds of ohio, the gridders came back to a school which was very proud of her majors.

senior split end sonny aldy was named the best offensive lineman for the year as he hauled in 31 passes for 681 yards and six touchdowns. teammate dees hinton, also a senior, caught 53 aerials for 1,006 yards and eight touchdowns, and received the best offensive back of the year award.

junior quarterback ricky haygood won the most valuable player award as he led division iii in total offense by accumulating 2,176 yards in nine games for a 241.8 average. haygood also ranked seventh in passing with a 12.7 completion average and passed for over 2,000 yards. during the regular season he connected on 114 of 221 passes for 17 touchdowns, with only six interceptions.

defensively, the (9-2) majors were ranked at the top in the final division iii statistics, and were led by senior linebacker phillip maples who was named the most outstanding lineman by his teammates. maples led the defense with 78 solo tackles, 41 assists and three q.b. sacs.

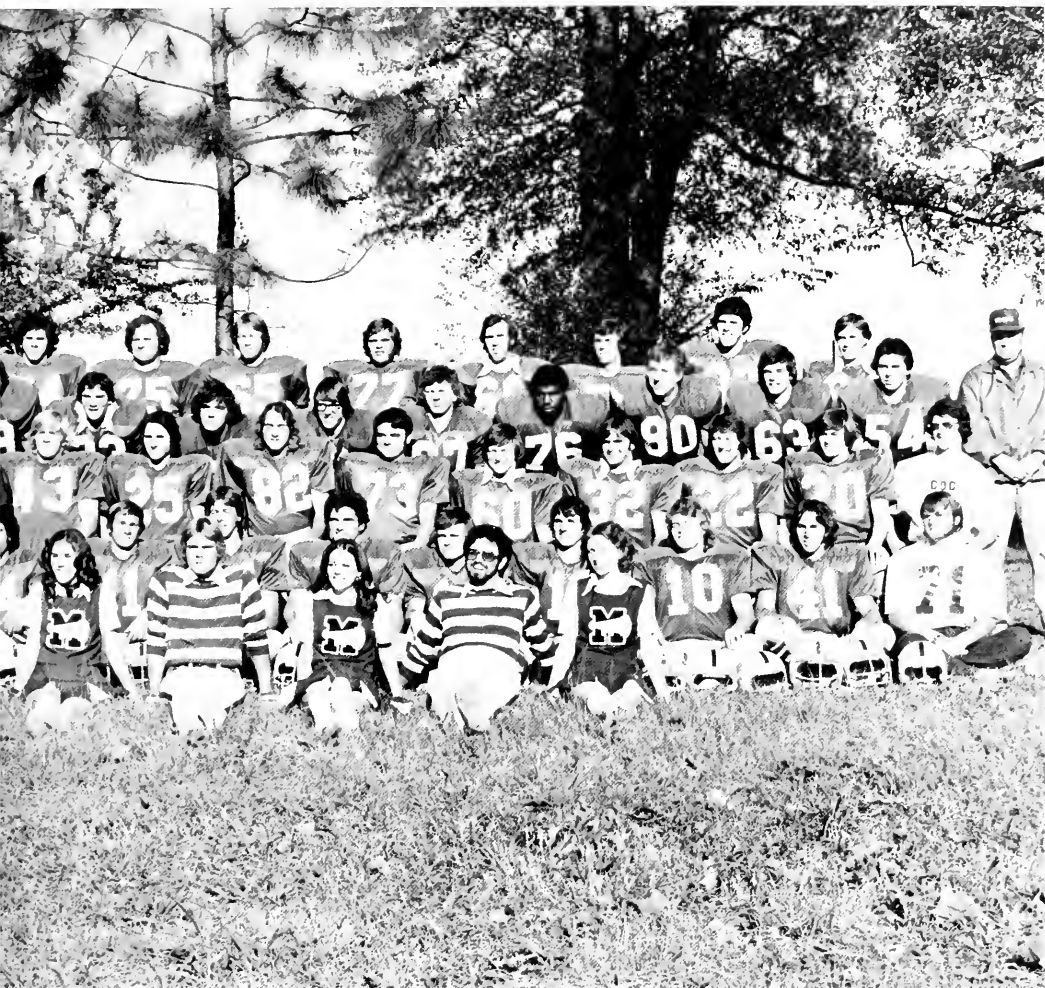

senior defensive end howard smith helped the majors to their number one spot in total defense with 10 q.b. sacs, and was named the best defensive lineman.

dan richards, a junior linebacker, was given the best defensive back award for his 68 lone tackles and 28 assists. with three interceptions for 50 yards, he was twice named best defensive player of the week.

basketball at millsaps saw just one victory the entire season out of 18 contests, but the squad proved to be a determined bunch.

junior ricky casey of kosciusko led the majors with a 25.2 game average and scored a career high 40 points in the purple and white's 93-89 overtime loss to southwestern (memphis).

the holmes junior college transfer led millsaps in their lone 81-74 win over ambassador with a 32 point total. casey received the most valuable player award and the best field goal award for the 1975-1976 season.

greg hickman, senior from baton rouge, la., shot an amazing 29 of 32 from the free throw line and received the best free throw shooter award. dave hardin of mt. olive was given the most improved player award as a sophomore, and finished the year with a 14.2 scoring average.

aggressive and devoted junior mike ethridge of belleville, ill., maintained a 10.4 average and received the coaches and officials award.

the majors, who terminated the season with a 74.1 point game average, were plagued with a height shortage and coach bob booth has recruited several big players for next year's action.

the millsaps college baseball team battled back from a mid-season slump to finish the spring season with a respectable 10-11 record.

coach tommy ranager's diamond squad was plagued with numerous doubleheader rainouts near the beginning of the year but finished strong in the final contests to terminate the season.

senior earl aycock of meridian led the majors through 21 games with a .343 batting average and was followed closely by junior ricky haygood of pascagoula at .328. aycock got 22 hits on 64 attempts and compiled 14 r.b.i.'s which included two homeruns.

the majors had four other players to bat .300 or better. they included: bob king of abingdon, va., .319, bruce mckinley from jackson, .309, archie lamb of arcadia, fla., .309, and dees hinton, .300.

hinton, a senior from bay springs who played centerfield, won the most valuable player award for his steady, consistent play. king, a junior, made just one error the entire season and received the best defensive player award, while junior danny bowling of brookhaven was given the scholastic oward.

coach jim montgomery's millsaps netters concluded the bicentennial season with an outstanding 17-6 record and earned a berth in the ncaa division three tennis championship, as they tied for fourth place in the nation.

brian loper, a sophomore from jackson, compiled the best singles record during the year with 14 victories against three losses and received the m.v.p. award for his accomplishments.

junior frank buchanan of quitman was given the most improved player award while finishing the season with a 13-4 mark. three-year standout elizabeth allen, a senior from jackson, missed a majority of the net action due to a knee injury and received the milton c. white academic achievement award.

mike woods, a sophomore from greenwood, was the first major to earn a point in a national tennis championship and terminated his second season with a 12-8 standing.

montgomery's squad relied heavily on three talented freshmen for its impressive achievements during the year.

luke crawford and randall boyd, both from arkansas, ended the season with 14-6 and 15-8 records respectively, and teamed up in doubles to lead millsaps with an 11-5 seasonal mark. joey langston of booneville was plagued with a shoulder ailment but finished tennis play with a fine 10-8 record for the majors.

after capturing four victories in their final five matches, the millsaps college golf team compiled their finest season record in recent years with eleven wins and five losses.

the majors' finishing wins came against southwestern (memphis) and belhaven college as sophomore charlie frye and junior teammate doug minor sparked 'saps' winning score of 301 with consecutive 74s at the live oaks golf course.

a pair of 69s by frye and minor at the fox meadows golf course in memphis enabled the purple and white to make golfing history in the team total category. millsaps finished with an even par score of 284 behind junior mike johnson's 72, and sophomore doug rooker scored a 74 in the team's effort.

frye, a native of magnolia, won the golfer of the year award with a 76.4 stroke average for the year and was followed by minor of jackson at 78.0, and johnson with 78.3, also of jackson. senior john prince of mccomb was next with a 78.7 average, and received the scholastic award among the linksters.

rooker, also from mccomb, maintained an 80.5 stroke average, and seniors glenn campbell of wiggins and philip maples of meridian held 81.6 averages.

homecoming events began early saturday morning with several class reunions. among classes reuniting was the fifty-year class of 1926. a picnic was held in the bowl, followed by the football game with austin college. special guests recognized during halftime ceremonies were the millsaps majors football team of 1934. this team of only fifteen men beat mississippi state 7-6 that year. (incidentally, state defeated army and notre dame the following year.) also during halftime peg wahrendorff was crowned homecoming queen. the final game score was millsaps 38, austin 0. the day's activities were concluded with a campus-wide dance held that night in the cafeteria.

elizabeth allen's college career was a successful interweaving of scholarship and exceptional athletic ability. as a dean's list scholar elizabeth was a member of eta sigma scholastic honorary and phi alpha theta history honorary. during her three years at millsaps she exemplified outstanding leadership and she held membership in both omicron delta kappa and sigma lambda. as a member of the millsaps varsity tennis team for three years she was awarded the most valuable player award and the scholastic award in 1975 and the latter again in 1976. she was also a vital contender in intramural sports and was a member of the majorette club. though elizabeth's schedule was packed with studying and tennis trips, she found time to share her talents with the members of chi omega fraternity and lead them as president.

few people have college careers filled with the enumerable honors which have been bestowed upon david anderson. david has been awarded the very highest in achievement at millsaps—the coveted bourgeois medal and the tribbett scholarship. as a freshman he received the freshman moth award. he has displayed incomparable leadership while serving as president of eta sigma, schiller gesellschaft, and deutscher verein. by demonstrating academic excellence in the study of german, david captured the deutscher verein award and the intermediate german award. his mastery of the field of accounting gained for him the mississippi society of certified public accountants award, as well as the wall street journal award. as a servant to the millsaps academia, he was a student assistant in the department of economics, accounting, and administration. for further intellectual enrichment david attended the m.e.c. leadership seminar. he was a recognized leader in the millsaps community in a variety of other endeavors—president of the interfraternity council, vice-president of o.d.k., and a member of the college senate. as a member of lambda chi alpha, david served as an officer and was an enthusiastic participant in intramurals.

during his years at millsaps earl aycock has excelled in his service to the brothers of kappa alpha order as their secretary and rush chairman. an indispensibly gifted four-year letterman in baseball, earl was voted the most valuable player in 1975. as a member of the athletic committee and student senate intramural committee and as president of the intramural council, he has proven his leadership is not limited to the field but extends into the planning room. his leadership abilities have been recognized by the leadership honorary o.d.k., of which he is a member. while remaining a dean's list scholar, earl found time to work on the purple and white, perform as a millsaps player, and be a "big brother" to kappa delta sorority.

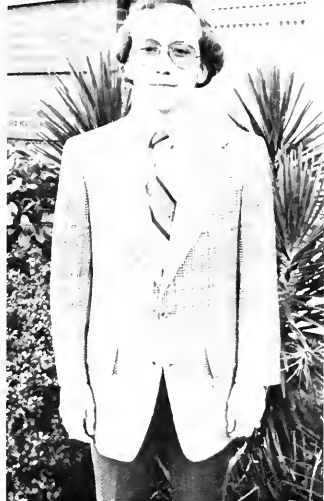

doug brindley, a cum laude graduate in theatre, has been a successful participant in many fields of endeavor while at millsaps. as an essential performer for the players, doug has played in thirteen major roles in three years, including such plays as: the waltz of the Toreadors, the lady's not for burning, hamlet, and conduct unbecoming. as ben franklin in ben franklin in paris, doug overwhelmed the audience with his portrayal of the patriot. this role earned for him the best actor award, and he was also the recipient of the mitchell award for outstanding player of the year. doug is not only a jack-of-all-trades on stage, but also on the athletic field. he was a four-year letterman in varsity football and was men's intramural tennis singles champion in 1974-1976. in 1976 he captured the men's doubles championship. doug was a member of omicron delta kappa and alpha psi omega dramatics honorary, and he held the post of dormitory assistant from 1974-1976.

obie clayton has been an asset to the college in countless ways. he made significant contributions to millsaps by his membership on the chaplain's committee and the legal code committee. as recipient of the c. wright mills award in sociology and the junior sociology award, obie gained recognition for his excellence in achievement in the study of sociology. as a dean's list scholar he was a member of the scholastic honorary, eta sigma.

during his four years at millsaps, syd conner has been an invaluable member of lambda chi alpha fraternity and has served the brotherhood in various facets—as house manager, secretary, delegate to the international assembly, i.f.c. representative, and president. syd, an avid sports enthusiast, also played intramural soccer for his fraternity. his versatility enabled him to better millsaps life as a member of the student senate and the chaplain's committee, and as an orientation counselor. for four years syd's singing ability enhanced the music of the millsaps singers. as a german scholar syd was a member of deutscher verein, the german society. he was also a member of the pre-ministerial students organization and plans to continue his ministry studies at iliff school of theology in denver, colorado.

ward embling has had perhaps one of the most active college careers of any student who ever attended millsaps college. a dean's list scholar for six semesters, ward made the bulk of his contribution to the theatre department. he appeared in numerous millsaps players productions, playing leading roles in several. in 1974 he won the players' cameo award for his portrayal as ormiston in vivat! vivat regina! his junior year he was awarded the 1975 junior acting award for men, the 1975 senior award for men and the 1975 mitchell award. holding membership in alpha psi omega theatre honorary, he served as business manager for the organization for two years and received the 1976 alpha psi omega award. although ward's contribution to the theatre department was immense, he did not limit himself to players activities. he was a member of pi kappa alpha, and the millsaps singers and was a millsaps troubadour for five semesters. he also served as a student senator and as a member of the college senate athletics committee. ward put his journalism talents to work serving on the staff of the purple and white for two years. during his senior year he served as sports information director for the college. he was also active in men's intramurals, winning the 1976 doubles championship in tennis. ward's leadership qualities and contributions did not go unrecognized as he was initiated into omicron delta kappa leadership honorary during the first semester of his junior year. he was a cum laude graduate with a degree in english.

mark eppes has had an active and productive four years at millsaps. he has contributed much to his fraternity, pi kappa alpha, serving as president, vice-president, and alumni secretary. he also represented the pikes on the inter-fraternity council and was the recipient of the gilbert p. cook award for two consecutive years. mark was chosen to represent his senior class on the college senate where he served as vice-chairman. he was secretary of fremere and also held membership in omicron delta kappa.

royce garvin has held numerous positions of leadership during his four years at millsaps. he served his fraternity, lambda chi alpha, in the offices of rush chairman and scholarship chairman. during his senior year, he held the office of president of omicron delta kappa leadership honorary. he found time as well to represent his fellow students on the student senate as senator-at-large. royce held membership in numerous honoraries. these include beta beta beta, chi chi chi, theta nu sigma, phi alpha theta, eta sigma, and alpha epsilon delta in which he served as historian. holding a high scholastic average, royce was the recipient of the stricker scholarship and was awarded the joseph b. price general chemistry award. royce also made time to participate in various christian activities on campus and was a member of the chaplain's committee.

lloyd groy began his active college career serving as freshman president. he served as a student senator for two years and held membership on several committees including the chaplain's committee, the publications committee, the public events committee, and the college admissions committee. lloyd displayed his talents in the field of journalism, serving for a year as sports information director and for three semesters as editor of the purple and white. lloyd was a great asset to his fraternity, kappa alpha, serving a year as president. he also held membership in phi alpha theta and omicron delta kappa.

cindy guild contributed much to the millsaps community during her two years at the college. choosing sociology as her major field, she received the junior sociology major's award. a member of kappa delta sorority, cindy also held membership in omicron delta kappa and the majorette club. she also served as the president of sigma lambda women's leadership honorary. cindy served for two years on the millsaps judicial council. she is listed in who's who among students in american junior colleges.

ethebet hort is recognized as being highly talented in the field of music. she won first place in piano solo division of the mississippi music teachers' association competition in november, 1973. she was also a finalist in concerto division of mmta competition in november, 1975. ethebet was the recipient of the marion l. smith scholarship. she served as president of eta sigma scholastic honorary. she also held membership in sigma lambda and was an active member of the millsaps singers. ethebet was also chosen by the lambda chi alphas to be their 1975 crescent girl. she is the pianist for wells memorial united methodist church, and she teaches private piano lessons.

diligence in service and a wealth of concern for others led betsy holmes to a phenomenally successful college career. betsy began her millsaps years illustriously by receiving the marion l. smith scholarship and, as a worthy recipient of it, went on to graduate summa cum laude. as a mathematics major, she has unselfishly given her time to the math department as a student assistant. she was also an assistant at the computing center, and for excellence in her major merited the mathematics department award. betsy's contributions to millsaps were extensive, including two years of service on the college senate. she was co-chairman of 1975 freshman orientation. in sigma lambda and o.d.k. she exhibited her outstanding leadership qualities. pike dream girl and 1975 homecoming maid were honors bestowed upon her by her peers. one of the grateful recipients of betsy's time and talents was chi omega fraternity, of which she was a member. she served her sisters unceasingly as social chairman, treasurer, and as a valuable participant in intramurals. for her depth of inspiration betsy was awarded the outstanding freshman and outstanding member awards by her sisters in chi o.

elizabeth harwell displayed her musical talents as accompanist for the troubadours for three years and was a singer in this world-travelled group her senior year. as a member of the millsaps singers, she served the group as their accompanist and as student conductor. elizabeth dedicated her energies to music and to the perfection of her interpretation of its beauty. an outstanding organist, she was president of the millsaps chapter of the american guild of organists for two years. elizabeth, a dean's list scholar, was not only a perfectionist in performing but also in academics as proven by her membership in eta sigma scholastic honorary.

as a member of the millsaps troubadours and millsaps singers, stacy jenkins has entertained the college community for the past four years. stacy, a dean's list student, has also appeared in several of the millsaps players' productions. in his fraternity kappa alpha he has served as vice-president and historian and was songfest leader his junior year. while engaged in his various activities stacy still found time to serve as a dorm manager and as a geology lab assistant. as a geology major he was a member of theta nu sigma natural science honorary. as a source of relaxation stacy's sport was soccer, which led him to be an outstanding member of the soccer club.

an active politician of the millsaps community, jim mccaafferty has served as president and first vice-president of the s.e.b. and has held positions on the chaplain's committee and public events committee. jim is well-known by fellow students not only for his interest in student affairs but also for his scholastic achievement. he was awarded the british studies at oxford scholarship and is a member of the history honorary, phi alpha theta. he also held membership in omicron delta kappa. a well-rounded person, jim served his fraternity kappa sigma as president, secretary, and rush chairman. he was a recipient of the kappa sigma leadership-scholarship award.

outstanding in leadership and active in every part of campus life, marsha mccarty is well-deserving of this honor. during her years at millsaps she has been inducted into two leadership honoraries, sigma lambda and omicron delta kappa. a dean's list scholar, she held membership in eta sigma scholastic honorary and kappa delta epsilon education honorary. she was an education major and worked as a student assistant for the department of education. in millsaps community affairs marsha served as editor of the 1975 bobashela. she proved a vital asset to her sisters in kappa delta sorority by serving them as treasurer and membership chairman. marsha, a member of the majorette club, was active in intramural sports, and she held membership in the food club and in the "b" club.

rob mcduff was successful in a variety of endeavors while a student at millsaps. rob displayed overwhelming excellence in his academic pursuits in political science and was, therefore, a member of the scholastic honorary eta sigma. as a member of the chaplain's committee and the president's student advisory committee, he helped form policies of the millsaps community. an additional service rendered by rob to the millsaps populace was the purple and white, of which he was associate editor and later, editor. always seeking to broaden his intellectual horizon, he took advantage of the honors program. the members of o.d.k. recognized what an asset his leadership has been to the college and initiated him into this leadership honorary. during his years at millsaps rob was a brother in the kappa alpha order.

the musically-oriented don messer has maintained a fine record of excellence throughout his years of study at millsaps. receiving a degree in both english and music, he was consistently on the dean's list and also held membership in eta sigma scholastic honorary. displaying his musical talents he was the winner of the piano solo competition given by the mississippi music teachers association in november of 1974. he further demonstrated his talents by being a member of both the millsaps singers and the troubadours. he proved his indispensibility to his brothers in lambda chi alpha by serving as their ritualist and as their director/arranger for the chi omega songfest. being an accomplished pianist, don played for madame lili kraus and was the organist for first united methodist church in clinton. with all these activities don still managed to teach piano lessons and be an assistant to dr. dan hise in the english department.

patsy pharr was involved in a variety of activities in which she proved herself to be an asset to the school. maintaining a place upon the dean's list, she was a member of both omicron delta kappa and sigma lambda. while not involved in scholastics, she found time to be s.e.b. secretary and a senator-at-large on the student senate. for two years she served as assistant editor of the bobashela. when patsy was not working for the school she served as president and secretary of kappa delta sorority and was a member of the majorette club. she proved her musical talent by being in the millsaps singers and demonstrated her good tastes in the food club.

mike stevens became quite well-known to his classmates as a leader by being president of his sophomore, junior, and senior classes. not only did he serve them in this capacity, but he was also on the student and college senates. as chairman of freshman orientation, he further demonstrated his remarkable leadership ability. as a reward for his efforts mike gained membership into o.d.k. his sportsmanship was equally commendable. he played on the millsaps soccer team and in a-team intramurals for four consecutive years. as a member of pi kappa alpha fraternity he served as president, vice-president, pledge trainer, and historian. consequently he was voted outstanding senior of pi k.a. in addition to his own fraternity work he was selected as chi omega owl man and served as their basketball coach. aside from all these activities mike still had time to be a staffwriter for the purple and white, serve on the jackson urban league and on the board of directors for the j.u.l. newsletter, of which he was editor.

the outstanding hubert thompson demonstrated his intelligence as well as his service to the school. as president of the black student association, he showed his leadership ability. he was also the pianist/director of the black gospel ensemble. involved in student affairs, hubert was a member of the financial affairs committee and the election committee. his well-respected opinion was recognized when he served as chairman of the student advisory committee to the president. hubert's leadership granted him a position in omicron delta kappa.

by the time he received his degree in business administration, walter wofford had served the college in many capacities. musically inclined, he was a member of the troubadours his freshman year, and was also a part of the millsaps singers. a diligent worker, walter was elected president, treasurer, and pledge coordinator by his pi kappa alpha fraternity brothers. an avid camera bug, he displayed his photographic ability and talents by serving as photographer for both the boba-shela and the purple and white. walter had also been named to the dean's list.

although terrel williams majored in chemistry, his scholastic interests varied. besides being president of chi chi chi, he was also vice-president of alpha epsilon delta. his skill in the natural sciences prevailed when he joined theta nu sigma. his other honoraries included beta beta beta and phi alpha theta, and because of his interest in the german language he belonged to deutscher verein. he brought pride to the brothers of lambda chi alpha by serving as their vice-president and associate member educator. terrel also participated in circle k, was a counselor for freshman orientation, and was on the bobashela staff. he was a chemistry department assistant, and with a continual place on the dean's list he gained membership into eta sigma scholastic honorary.

Conserving Electric Power Makes Sense

Electric power is a valuable resource, and it makes good sense to conserve it. Here are a few easy ways to do that:

- Make sure your home is properly insulated.
- Keep your thermostat at 68° in winter and 78° in summer.
- Use dishwashers and clothes dryers only when you have a full load.
- Conserve hot water.
- Turn off TV's, radios, stereos, and lights when not in use.

A few simple rules, but following them makes good sense. Dollars and cents, too...because these rules help you save money as well as electricity.

fellow millsapiens:

thanks for making 1975-76 a success! it made my work a lot easier, for it was you who provided the people and events; i only compiled them. many of you helped—and maybe without realizing it. whether it was catching the photographer's eye, organizing a group, or submitting copy, you made a significant contribution to your yearbook. i am especially grateful to my assistants who helped me in making decisions and meeting deadlines. our efforts were to preserve this year by binding it together within a cover. my only wish is that you will appreciate this book and enjoy looking at it as much as i did producing it.
